In the Field of Sport

SAYS LITTLE MADE BEST PLAY OF SEASON

Someone asked C. E. McBride, sport editor of the Kansas City Star and an eminent authority on sport matters, what, in his opinion, was the greatest play he saw in football during the season just finished. In his personal column he replies as follows:

"So many plays came under our observation during the season just closed that it would be almost impossible to pick one and say it was the best.

"As the mind wanders through the 1920 season there looms large the seventy-yard run of Harley Little in the Kansas-Ames game. That run won the game for Kansas. The credit was not all Little's as he had superb interference, but for brilliance and the value of the play to his team that dash of Little's probably was the finest play we saw in a season of wonderful plays."

Further in the article he mentions the sixty yard dash of "Chuck" Lewis through the Ames broken field and the spirit of "Dutch" Lomborg's down the side line during the Kansas-Missouri game.

While we do not wish to re-haul an old story, still we wonder if Mr. McBride ever heard of "Chuck" Lewis' eighty-yard run for a touchdown against the Sooners? While Lewis didn't have the "superb interference" that aided Little's dash, still he was interfered with considerably by reason of having three broken ribs and a bad leg. Also his long sprint failed to give Missouri the game, but it did save the disgrace of a shutout.

Tiger fans who witnessed the Missouri Captain as he twisted, turned, slid and sifted through the Oklahoma secondary defense and finally staggered across the goal line, will probably be willing to place that run against any that was made in the Valley the past season.

KANSAS MOURNS ITS BASKETBALL CHANCES

LAWRENCE COMES THE WORD THAT K. U. IS UP AGAINST ONE OF THE HARDEST SCHEDULES EVER PLAYED BY A KANSAS SQUAD.

In addition to this, the dispatch adds, Kansas faces an even harder proposition in that all the other big schools of the Valley have practically their last season's teams back, while Dr. Forest C. Allen, basketball mentor at Lawrence, must build a fighting aggregation around one regular from last year, Captain Uhlir, center. There are four letter men out for the team but none were regulars last season and none are experienced.

The Missouri coaching staff is given considerable credit in this story. It says in part:

"Missouri's main advantage this year is in its coaching staff—and to appreciate this advantage, history is necessary. When Meanwell coached Missouri several years ago, that school got the Valley championship habit and the Kansas Aggies under Cleveland's tutelage, were runners up for a few seasons. When Meanwell went to war, Johnny Miller took the mentor position; and Cleveland defeated him for the championship. On Meanwell's return, the Aggies were again forced to take second place.

"This year, however, Missouri has Johnny Miller, Cleveland, who has been coaching the most dangerous rival, and has practically the full advantage of Meanwell's work through Coach Rubeley who played for three years under Meanwell, and who has been conceded to be one of the brainiest players in the Valley."

NO W. C. T. U. PLANS YET

But Organization Wants Cigarette Laws Enforced.

The W. C. T. U. has no definite plan for reducing or preventing cigarette smoking among the students. When asked about the matter this morning, Mrs. J. S. Taylor said that she had not heard of the girls' smoking until a recent meeting of the W. C. T. U., and that then it was merely stated that something should be done to stop it.

The report of so much smoking being done, some of it by girls in Columbia, has caused comment both among the students at the University and among the people of Columbia.
